

Dr. Ana Frelih-Larsen is a Senior Fellow at Ecologic Institute and coordinates the Institute's activities on agriculture and soil. Her areas of expertise are soil and water protection policies and their role in climate change mitigation and adaptation. She specializes in the implementation of the Common Agricultural Policy (CAP), rural development programs, and the Water Framework Directive (WFD).